FIRES IN LAFAYETTE .- On Saturday morning a cooper shop, belonging to a Mr. Harris, was burned down; loss, $3,000. On Sunday morning the residence of a Mr. Kipp was partially burned; loss, $1,000. The Journal says there is some difficulty in their fire department, and that the engine was of no service at the last named fire.

MURDER AT FAIRFIELD .- On Thursday evening last a murder was committed at Fairfield. It appears that a man living near that place named Burrell Caton, approached an Irishman named Thomas Kelly, and asked him what he had been telling about him (Caton,) and caught him by the collar, at the same time striking him with his fist on the back of the head, Kelly falling and striking his head upon a low platform. Either the fall or the blow dislocated the neck of Kelly in two places, producing almost instant death.

ALL ABOUT PETROLEUM IN FOUNTAIN COUNTY-THE WORK AND ITS PROSPECTS .-From a gentleman who has been engaged in oll operations in this county, we obtain information as to the operations of the different companies, and the result of their labors.

In Fountain county three wells are being bored for oil. The work has been going on for several months past. In the Jarrett well, in Mill Creek township, they have bored 450 feet, and have found strong salt water. They report favorable indications of oil. The Phœbus well, in Troy township, has been bored 600 feet, and good indications of oil are reported. The well is owned by the "Wabash Petroleum and Mining Association." in Warren, Fountain, Parke and Vermillion counties. This lease embraces an extensive coal region. The Thomas well has been bored to a depth of 700 feet, and oil has been found but not in paying quantities. Salt water, strong enough to cure ment, has been struck, in quantity large enough to make twenty-five parrels of salt per day. The work on these wells, we are informed, is being vigorously prosecuted. Attica Led-of his rascalities were perpetrated in the West, we transfer to our columns the following ac-Most of our readers will remember the incident in June, 1864, of the Ohio Valley Bank, of this city, sending by mistake a package of $10,-660 to one Benjamin W. Allen, a broker, of Springfield, Ohio, instead of $1,200 that was intended for him, but went to another party for whom the $10,000 was designed, and that said Allen, though he had recently married a young wife of highly respectable and wealthy parents, after discounting a forged draft on Sherman & Co., New York, at the with all the money. It will also be remem-bered that a few months ago we published an account of this fellow's operations in St. Paul, Minnesota, where, under the name of Joha W. Harris, he aped the gentleman of wealth; that from there he went to New York city, boarded at the St. James Hotel, and shortly married again; that, returning to St. Paul, he was discovered by Mr. James Flemming, of Spring-tield, who, by intimidation, forced him to pay the $1,000 he had obtained from the First National Bank, and also a claim for $600 held by bis (Allen's) father-in-law; that, while Mr. Flemming was waiting there till he could re-ceive the claim of the Ohio Valley Bank, Harris went to the trunk of his wife, who was sick abed, and getting her jeweiry, made his escape.

This was the last heard of the swindler until to-day we find him mentioned in the Washington City papers, where, for two or three months past, he has been making the acquaintance of business men, under the name of Dan-iel Miller. On Tuesday morning last he stopped at the Bank of Commerce, Georgetown, and asked for what he could buy ten thousand dollars in 7-30 bonds. He was informed that the price was 99c, and interest. Miller then asked the teller if he would cash a certified check on Baltimore, provided he would iden-tify himself. He was answered in the affirmative, and departed. He shortly returned with a note from a gentleman well known at the bank, identifying him, upon which the money was paid. He then gave the teller one thousand dollars, the check for one thousand dollars on a bank in Baltimore, and nine dollars as a premium for two thousand in 7.30 United States bonds. Not long afterward the teller of the bank, suspecting that all was not right, telegraphed to Baltimore to know whether or not the check was correct. A reply being received in the negative, he called upon the gentleman who had identified Miller, and they together proceeded to hunt up the swindler. They met him, but the regue was too quick for them, and disappeared. Obtaining the assistance of a detective, they caught him just as he was getting in the cars for Baltimore. Upon being searched there was found upon his person $2,794 in money, one very fine large cluster diamond pin, with chain attached, one large cluster diamond finger ring and a lot of other jewelry; a lot of blank checks on the different banks, a check on one of our prominent banking firms, payable to Galt & Brother, jew-elers, for $500, and a bank book showing that he had made deposits with the same bankers. In his room were found cheek books of banks different cities, and the foregoin statement oncerning himself from a Western paper. The career of this individual is now at an ## end. He has been fully identified, and will shortly be brought to trial. THE QUESTION OF THE DAY. A Letter from the Hon. Charles Sum-

per to the Editor of the New York In-BOSTON, OCTOBER 29. DEAR MR. EDITOR : I rejoice that the Independent has placed itself firmly on the sure ground of equal rights. It is natural that a onrnal which has from the beginning so brave-y and constantly opposed slavery in all its pretensions should now insist that these pretentions shall be trampled out, so that nothing shall be left to breed future trouble. This can be done ahrough the establishment of equal pights. To my mind there never was a duty pialner of more instinctive. It is as plain as he meral law, and it is as instinctive as selfdefense. If the country fails to do justice now, it will commit a crime, where guilt and meanness will strive for mastery. On this head it is enough to say that it is a debt we owe our savoirs and benefactors. But here all the instincts of self-defense harmonize with justice. For the sake of the whole country, which suffers from weakness in any part; for the sake of the states lately distracted by war, which above all things need security and repose; for the sake of agriculture, which is neglected there; for the take of commerce, which has fled ; for the sake of namonal creant, whose enerous trust is exposed to repudiation; and Anally, for the sake of reconciliation, which can be complete only when justice prevails, we must insist on equal rights as the condition of the new order of things, so long as this question remains unsettled there can be no true peace. Therefore we would say to the merchant who wishes to open trade with this region; to the capitalist who wishes to send his money there ; to the emigrants who wishes to find a home there; begin by assuring justice to all men. This is the one essential condition of prosperity, of credit and of tranquili-Without this, mercantile houses, banks, and emigration societies having anything to do with this region must all fail, or at least suffer in business and resources. To Congreswe must look as the guardian under the Constitution of the national safety. He did not think the Senate could control the employing of persons and dictate to the officers who and who not should be employed to assist them. It was unprecedented, and he moved to lay the resolution

Mr. BENNETT thought the plen much better than the manner acted upon heretofore. He introduced the resolution in an early stage of the session, as he wished to have the Senate control the matter. He introduced the resolution so that the committee could examine these matters. He did not think there was any need of so many employes as there were in the last session. The cost of the employes of the last session amounted to over $17,000, and he did not like being held responsible for such a sum expended in the manner it had been. It was too late to introduce such resolutions at the end of the session, and he thought the matter of the stationary last session an outrage
Mr. COBB inquired if the resolution did not control the employing of the employes in the Mr. BENNETT explained that it did not. Mr. CULLEN did not like the wording of the resolution, and moved to strike out the word superintend" and insert the word "confirm."

Mr. VAWTER offered an amendment that the salaries of the principal officers be fixed at $1,000 for the session, and that they pay out of t the expenses of all employees. Mr. CULLEN asked if there was not a law passed fixing salaries of officers and if the law

THE COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY. Washington, November 13.—The Second emptroller of the Treasury has made a decision relative to servants' pay in the case of a soldier transferred to the Veteran Reserve Corps, agreeable to a general order of the Provost Marshal General, dated April 28, 1865, subsequently mustered out by general order No. 116, Adjutant General's office, 1865, where application is made for the balance of the recruit bounty. The Comptroller decided former believed no indorsement was necessary that he was discharged by reason of the close and the latter defending his resolution in order of the war. He is entitled to the balance of the bounty the same as though he had remained with his regiment. The fact of his being transferred to the Veteran Reserve Corps and discharged from the organization, does not effect his right to the bounty to which he was entitled under his enlistment. In case of a representative substitute for a person not liabl to draft, it is held that the former is entitled to the same bounty as other recruits enlisted at the same time and for like period of services.

Indianapolis Daily & Weekly Herald,

In politics the HERALD will be thoroughly Democratic, and to assure the party of its political fidelity and ability, its editorial columns have been placed under the exclusive control of the Hon. S. E. PERRINS, one of the ablest and read est writers in the State, whose long and intimate acquaintance with the history of political parties in our State, together with his life-long devotion to Democratic principles, makes him peculiarly fitted

Its Local Columns shall receive special attention, and an able corps has been engaged to report the Special Session of the Legislature shortly to convene. Its Commercial articles and Price Currents will be -carefully ravised, so as to make it an object to men of In short, we do not intend to spare either time or Officers of railroads will consult the interests of

MUTUAL LIFE

THIS ENTERPRISING COMPANY, IN A LITTLE over six years, has issued over 13,000 Policies and paid near $200,000 in Leases. It is prompt in all its business transactions, paying its losses as cheerfully as it receives the premiums on its policies, departing in no respect from the general principles upon which all the great Mutual Life Insurance of America have based beir success. It claims the advantages of increased rates of interest on its investments, over Eastern Comrates of interest on its investments, over Eastern Com-panies; and, also, a less rate of mortality than is expe-rienced in the East—two very important items to con-sider in the selection of a Life Insurance Company. Over two hundred of the Northwestern Policies are now
